Sandro has been diagnosed with Alzheimer's, a revelation that disrupts his life and that of his family. Sandro has always possessed a highly imaginative, curious intelligence. But now, the memories he cherishes so deeply are slipping away. How can they be saved? The idea comes from his son Giacomo, who inherited Sandro's vibrant imagination and who works as a film director: to use the magic of cinema to create an archive of memories for his father. He will stage the most significant memories of Sandro's life in a theater. However, these memories must be collected before it's too late. "Stories for Sandro" is a film about the stubborn love of a son who wants to save the relationship with his father.
